#14 First Visit to Bay Hill

Palmer first visited Bay Hill in 1965, around the time Walt Disney announced plans to build a theme park nearby. Palmer was there to play in an exhibition with Jack Nicklaus, Don Cherry and Dave Ragan. Palmer won, fell in love with the property, and in 1970 took out a lease with an option to buy. By 1975 he owned the place and by 1979 it was hosting what would become the Arnold Palmer Invitational presented by Mastercard, today a tournament—and a venue—beloved by pros and amateurs alike.

PERSPECTIVE

Webster's dictionary defines perspective as "the capacity to view things in their true relations or relative importance." It is my understanding that one of Mr. Palmer's great golf traits was his perspective, his ability to see possibilities where others could not (or where they would not attempt them anyway). "You must play boldly to win" comes to mind as one of his wonderful quotes, and that's certainly indicative of his approach to life.

But sometimes it is difficult to see things in perspective when we are too close to them. How nice, then, that the Saunders have given me the opportunity this summer to spend some time in Latrobe. I'll be there not only to help our Latrobe team members work toward achieving their goals, but to gain more perspective in helping Bay Hill continue to grow and to prosper in the future.

Latrobe is a magical place, a quiet escape where nature, deep thought and hospitality are found in the everyday pursuits of life. I can see how Mr. & Mrs. Palmer found peace and refuge during their stays here, and how in so many ways it is an ideal place in which to forge great achievements (and great achievers!) Here, I have been able to reflect and to think through some of the questions that face both of our clubs, and I've also had the space to see properly the incredible strength in the teams that we are developing. The magic of Latrobe has revitalized me and provided me with the clarity of mind required to develop ideas worth sharing, ideas that, when combined with others' perspectives, will help to build real solutions.

I encourage each Bay Hill member to visit Latrobe, for it is a perfect complement to its sister club. But if you can't visit Latrobe, I do hope that you can find that special place, and that special activity—that spark—at home in Bay Hill where thoughts can be formed and friendships built. There is magic in both properties, and it is sustained by our members even as it inspires us all. I am grateful to be here every day, and to know all of you.

From the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains,

Don

18-HOLER NEWS

by Nicole Smith

Before we could celebrate the festive, firework-filled holidays of the summer, the final events of the 2018/2019 season finished with a bang! Once again, our Challenge Cup team brought back the gross win at the LPGA International Golf Course. The team was led by Ricki Longenecker and Linda Cardilli who also assumed co-captain duties last year. Clearly they have a knack for their leadership roles! We book-ended the season with the Year End Shotgun and Awards Luncheon. Congratulations to all the winners but especially to Ricki Longenecker for being the Most Improved Player and Martha Ward for Most Participation. It was another fantastic season filled with fun, friends, laughter and lots of golf. We already look forward to joining our golfing buddies at the kick-off coffee in August. Until then we will practice away and be left with a wonderful sentiment from Mr. Palmer himself - "The more I practice, the luckier I get."

SUMMER INSTRUCTION AVAILABLE FROM APGA

John O'Leary

At the Arnold Palmer Golf Academy we are dedicated to helping golfers improve by introducing or reintroducing our students to the fundamentals that Mr. Palmer's father stressed to him. Using the fundamentals we are able to work with your natural tendencies. That way you are not trying to learn a new swing. Our most popular program is a three-day program. However, with the summer heat and previously planned vacations you might not have the availability to work on your game for three consecutive mornings.

Perhaps a program focused on Mastering your Fundamentals, Scoring Zone, or a Learn & Play program?

- Our maximum student to teacher ratio is 4:1.
- We can start at eight in the morning and finish at eleven. You can be to work after lunch.

During the full swing program you work on your full swing fundamentals. This does include a video analysis of your swing. In our Scoring Zone program we apply the same fundamentals to your short game shots on our two acre short game practice area. In a Learn & Play program we mix full swing instruction and short game instruction with a nine hole playing lesson where we can work on course strategies.

If the summer heat is discouraging you from scheduling a program, how about a playing lesson? In the summer we offer playing lessons on the Championship course. A playing lesson is a marvelous way to work on your game and moving around on a golf cart in between shots will help with the heat.

During a playing lesson we will share ideas with you for improving your technique and golf course strategy. We can give you an honest assessment of your strategy. Here is a hint of what you will hear, "play to your strengths not those of the tour pros we watch each March."

To check availability or book a program we can be reached at 407-876-8008 or via email at joleary@bayhill.com

RICK HILMER WINS THE INAUGURAL PHEDEXCUP

by Rob Caravello

The PhedExCup, a 20 week tournament created by PhedExCup commissioners Rob Caravello, Rick Hilmer and Jason Rickard recently crowned its first champion during a 36 hole event on June 30.

Patterned after the PGA Tours FedExCup, the PhedExCup awarded the 24 players in the field with points earned by their weekly performance. At the end of the 20 week season, the top 10 point earners were awarded a spot in a two round, 36 hole PhedExCup Championship event.

Commissioner Rickard added “the Sunday morning guys were in desperate need of leadership and guidance, this tournament was the perfect elixir”

The season began January 20th and by week 6, Rob Caravello leapt to the top of the leaderboard and never looked back, finishing the 20 week season with 239 points, a full 90 points clear of the field.

Caravello said “I was really surprised at how poorly these guys played... seriously”

As the season progressed a real battle emerged for playoff positioning, important because the top 5 players received a reduced quota for the first round of the playoffs.

And getting hot at the right time was Rick Hilmer who posted a win in week 18 which placed him 5th for the playoffs and reduced his quota by 2 points for the first round of the playoffs.

One of the seasons biggest highlights came during week 20 when Keith Kreigh posted a blistering 67. But the biggest story during week 20 was that of Brian Boulерice who leapt into the playoffs by posting a 2nd place finish knocking Bryan Smith out of playoff contention.

| 3. Keith Kreigh | 8. Mike Doyle |
| 4. Scott Hudgens | 9. Jason Rickard |
| 5. Rick Hilmer | 10. Chris Rotermund |

The playoffs began under hot and humid conditions and featured Bay Hill Member and API first hole announcer

Hal Slaton introduced each player.

Waiting for the winner was a purple blazer emblazoned with a PhedExCup logo, a trophy and cash prize.

With 3 players eliminated in the first round, the remaining players teed it up for the second 18 to battle it out to become PhedExCup Champion. Hilmer fought off a furious charge by Chris Rotermund. With a crowd gathered on the 18th green (ok, maybe there were 20 people there) Hilmer sealed the deal and posted an 85 +3 over his quota to fend off Rotermund’s 78 +2 over quota and was crowned the first PhedExCup Champion.

20 weeks and two playoff rounds later, it was all decided by one stroke.

Rick Hilmer added “On behalf of my fellow PhedExers I want to thank everyone at the club who helped make this happen. And if you see me around town wearing my purple PhedExCup jacket, please feel free to say hello and buy me a drink” Representatives from FedExCup did not return calls for comment.

JUNIOR LEAGUE

As the 2019 PGA Junior League season came to a close, Bay Hill stands alone in 2nd place behind Bella Collina. Arnie's Aces started the year off on the road with a tough match against Bella Collina scoring 2 points to Bella Collina's 10. Bay Hill then hosted Country Club of Orlando to pull off our first win of the season scoring 7 ½ points to CCO's 4 ½. The team then faced The Grand Cypress Golf Academy for two matches taking back to back wins scoring 18.5 points to GCGA's 5.5 points. We then hosted a very tough Bella Collina to lose our second match of the year scoring 2 points against Bella Collina's 10.

Our final match of the year was held at CCO and Arnie's Aces came out victorious with a 7 to 5 win over Country Club of Orlando. Ending the season with a 4-2 record and scoring 37 points throughout the season left Bay Hill in the second place. Finishing second gave Bay Hill the opportunity to send three players to the Orlando 2 League All-Star Team. We want to congratulate the following players who will be representing Bay Hill during the all-star post season; Palmer Haynes, Wilson Stringer, and Ridge Hudgens.

We are pleased to announce that the Bay Hill Club & Lodge's Bay Window wine list has been selected to receive the Award of Excellence from Wine Spectator. This is the first time Bay Hill Club & Lodge has been recognized in the global marketplace for our extensive and well-rounded selection of wines.

The Award of Excellence recognizes restaurants whose wine lists feature a well-chosen assortment of quality producers along with a thematic match to the menu in both price and style. Ranging in size from 90 selections to several hundred, these lists are well-focused and tend to emphasize discovery. This year 2,447 restaurants in all 50 states and 79 countries and territories achieved the Award of Excellence.

Of course, this award would not have been possible without the hard work and determination of our Certified Sommelier, Lindsey Haluska, who's unfailing passion and depth of knowledge can be seen woven into every wine list offered at Bay Hill.
